DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 4-7, 10-16, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Van Gompel et al. USPN 6387085. Van Gompel discloses an absorbent article having a facing layer 64 at least a portion of which is extensible; an absorbent layer 66 having zones of extensibility (col. 12, lines 17-26); a liquid impermeable backsheet 62; fastening means 34,36; and wherein at least a portion of the first absorbent layer 66 is decoupled from the backsheet (Figures 1 and 2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 2, 3, 17, and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Van Gompel USPN 6387085. Van Gompel discloses the present invention substantially as claimed. However, Van Gompel does not disclose the zones of extensibility are created by slits or incrementally-stretched rib-like elements. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to create the zones of extensibility with slits or incrementally-stretched rib-like elements as opposed to pleats either modification would create an extensible area in the substrate and since applicant has not disclosed slits or incrementally-stretched rib-like elements solves any stated problem and it appears that the invention would perform equally well with pleats as taught in Van Gompel.
